1 Corinthians 2:9-10

"But as it is written: 'Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, nor have entered into the heart of man the things which God has prepared for those who love Him.' But God has revealed them to us through His Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, yes, the deep things of God."

As I read recently through 1Peter chapter 1, these verses in 1 Corinthians came to mind. I was thinking how everywhere I look, the things that are supposed to be constant have shifted. Our government is failing. There is crazy civil discourse everywhere across our country. Foreign countries are in dismay. Nothing seems to be stable anymore, other than God.

Even in the midst of upheaval, we will always witness the Holy Spirit at work. Doing what He does best, steadying life.

Some churches are seeing an increase in attendance with a good deal of emotional, physical, and spiritual healing taking place as people seek Jesus for help. There is an unspeakable joy as many refresh their faith in Jesus.

So, don't neglect what you need to do. Eternal life with God in heaven, make it your priority to know what the Bible says about it. Let that pursuit be a reality for you that you know for sure you'll rest on a solid foundation that cannot be moved. May you never trust in anything else.
